RAINY CREEK

Miss Annie Thompson who has been teaching at Alx for the past term, returned home on Saturday last and will spend her holidays here.

Miss Vivian McDonald, who has been the efficient teacher of the Carritt school for the past six months, will spend a part of her holidays at Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. J. J. Nelson expects to leave on Wednesday of this week for a short visit with friends and relatives at Penhold. She makes the trip at this time in order to see her sister, Miss Lizzie Martin, who leaves shortly for England to attend the exhibition at Wembley.

Miss N. Thompson arrived on Monday last from her school at Foreman, to spend her holidays at her home here.

Children's Day was observed by the Rainy Creek Sunday School on Sunday last. A well prepared and lengthy programme of songs and recitations appropriate to the day was rendered and with the exception of a short address by the pastor was given up to the Busy Bee class (the little tots) and the Juniors or Black Cat class. Special all-day exercises were held for Floyd Nelson, Leonard Peterson and Donald Suratt and they were presented with certificates of promotion to the Black Cat class. The different numbers were well rendered and reflected credit on the youngsters and their teachers, Mrs. J. B. Dane and Miss E. Nelson. Miss Nelson presided at the organ.

On Wednesday p.m. of last week the Rainy Creek team met the Home Breads on the former's diamond and were victorious. The young ladies sold ice cream, cake and coffee, buns and wieners, etc., and netted about $20 for the benefit of the baseball nine.

The following pupils of the Carritt school were successful in the school examinations just passed and were promoted as follows:

Grade 1 to Grade 2
Archibald Nelson, Francis Parkinson, Alberta Humman, Lawrence Peterson, Vernon Nelson.

Grade 2 to Grade 3
Ronald Nelson, Marcelle Schmidt, Alvina Schmidt.

Grade 3 to Grade 4
Wayne Heeman 99, Gerald Parkinson 85, Marie Nelson 83, Leonard Peterson 75.

Grade 4 to Grade 5
Floyd Nelson 88, Charles Humman 69.

Grade 5 to Grade 6
Ethel Peterson 91, Marion Nelson 88, Rhylis Thompson 85.

Grade 6 to Grade 7
Marjorie Carritt 89.

Mark Thompson wrote the Departmental Grade VIII examination.

A. A. Lubeck's sale was quite well attended and fair prices were secured by Auctioneer Dameron for the goods offered.

A marriage took place at the Manse, Red Deer, on Wednesday, June 26th, which united two of Rainy Creek's most esteemed families—when Miss Hazel Jane Bigam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bigam, became the bride of Walter Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stephenson. They were accompanied by Miss Laura Stephenson and Mr. Murray Bigam. Rev. W. G. Brown performed the ceremony.

These young people have lived in the community practically all their lives, both belonging to pioneer families of the district. The many friends of both families will extend the heartiest of congratulations to them over this event, and best wishes to the newly wedded pair for a long, happy and useful life together. They left immediately after the ceremony by motor for Banff for a short trip, after which they will be at home to their friends on the groom's farm west of Bentley.

"No less than ten stitches the doctor had to put into my old man after the fight last night."
"Only ten," exclaimed Mrs. O'Brien. "Sure when the doctor seen the poor husband carried in this morning, he says: 'Has any was got a sewing machine?'"

SIR HENRY THORNTON ON FINANCE

SIR HENRY W. THORNTON, K.B.E.,
President and Chairman of the Board of Directors, Canadian National Railways

In addressing the thirty-first annual convention of the New York State Bankers' Association, held last week in Montreal, Sir Henry W. Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, placed before the gathering the fine investment values of the great natural resources of the Dominion, which he stated had hardly been scratched. The economic situation of the United States and Canada demanded that these natural resources of Canada be developed along sound and practical lines, and he urged the clients to the benefits to be derived from investments in the vast mineral and other natural resources of the Dominion. The speaker said in part: "Despite the fact that much publicity has gone forth, much has yet to be accomplished to appraise Americans that the time is more opportune than ever for those from the United States to make investments here. We have more coal than you have in the United States; we have natural resources and mineral deposits whose surfaces have not been scratched, and with lands sparsely populated, it is up to you bankers to so educate your clients of the benefits to be derived right here that Canada will so grow and blossom forth that she will stand out as one of the greatest of all countries."

"Bankers are playing a big part in the affairs of the world today, and it may be truthfully said that no body of men in the universe of finance has done so much to alleviate distress of nations, governments and peoples as have the bankers of the United States. Financial crises which have struck panic into the hearts of mankind have been faced by United States bankers with that show of 'front' that characterized the soldier when he went 'over the top' during the World War. And yet, there are no decorations for such services as this class of servant has rendered. Rather did these men appear satisfied with having done a deed well and having done that duty which their position gave them the power to accomplish."

"Remembering the position now held by the United States, it must be plain to the government of that country to the south that she cannot divorce herself from world affairs, and, if she is to continue to occupy the place in the limelight that her deeds have entitled her to, she must take greater interest in international affairs. Civilization has passed through the greatest crisis in the history of the world; there are many wounds yet raw, but unless these are bound up and friendships renewed, there are grave dangers that further complications will ensue. It almost seems that the winning of the war was easier than the winning of peace, and problems that followed are very difficult of solution."

"The safety of civilization rests in the hands of Great Britain and the United States. War is the only game I know where both sides lose. When our two countries join hands for the prevention of wars, there shall be no more."

OLD WING OF CHATEAU, LAKE LOUISE, BURNED

Lake Louise, Alta., July 4.—Two fire blackened walls and a heap of smouldering debris was all that remained last night of the older part of Lake Louise Chateau, the famous "Palace in the Clouds." Fire, which broke out in the main kitchen Thursday noon, razed the whole structure to the ground, and was checked only when the concrete walls and the steel fire doors of the new wing of the Chateau were reached. Six persons, all members of the staff—five Japanese and one white man—were burned and injured when they jumped to safety from the second floor of the building, but of the 200 guests who were registered when the fire broke out, all escaped injury.

C.P.R. officials were busily engaged last night in settling claims for baggage and personal belongings, and consequently were unable to give an official estimate of the damage. It was stated, however, that it would reach nearly $50,000. The fire is thought to have originated through an overheated stove in the kitchen. The building and contents, outside of the guests' belongings, were fully covered by insurance.

Beauty Spot Picture of Desolation and Misery.
The former beauty spot of the Rockies was a picture of misery and desolation last night. The old chateau which was frame and stone construction, was completely wiped out. The big spacious lawns were littered with a mixture of broken beds, burned clothing, smashed bureaux—the big pines which used to provide shade from the hot summer sun were stripped of their branches, and thousands of beautiful flowers in full bloom were trampled underfoot and washed away by the streams of gallons of water poured upon the building in an effort to quench the blaze.

Beside the ruins, however, stood the big fireproof addition to the Chateau, and it was here that both guests and staff were given shelter and clothing after a gallant seven-hour fight against the fire fiend.

THE BRITISH FLEET AT VANCOUVER

The daily press has given full descriptions of the reception given at Vancouver and Victoria to the British fleet, which is going round the world. It is satisfactory to note that the reception was of a wholly enthusiastic and cordial character. The entry of the fleet into Vancouver harbour, in particular, was marked by demonstrations more striking than any that the fleet has encountered in the course of its world cruise. It almost seemed as if the people of British Columbia were determined to show that Canadians as a whole do not endorse the shabby and mean attitude of the Government now in power with respect to naval strength.

In the course of a speech made in Vancouver at one of the receptions in honour of the fleet, Vice-Admiral Field, commanding the fleet, asked a very pertinent question of his audience. It was a studiously correct and diplomatic speech in line with the speeches which he has made with entire acceptance elsewhere throughout the Empire. The question he asked was: "Do you Canadians feel safe with virtually no naval protection of your own?" To Canadians living on either the Pacific or the Atlantic coasts, but particularly the former, the question ought to cause very serious thought, and naturally the matter concerns all of us throughout the Dominion, even if we have never seen the oceans. The question is put by a distinguished officer, acquainted with the meaning of modern war at sea, and actuated by nothing whatever but friendly feelings towards us. If the question were answered with absolute sincerity, what would the answer be? Only complete ignorance of past history and present day tendencies would allow of the answer being: "There is no danger to guard against, and therefore no need of a Canadian navy." The present tension between the United States and Japan alone should prevent such an answer. It has led the States to vote $150,000,000 only a few weeks ago to bring the navy up to an efficient standard.

The real answer to Admiral Field's question is that Canadians feel safe without a navy because they can rely on the protection of the British navy in the first instance, and the United States navy under the Munro doctrine in the second. Such an answer ought to make self-respecting Canadians feel thoroughly small and mean, and in fact there is not much doubt as to the feeling on this subject of the better sections of the Canadian people. They have no sympathy whatever with the policy of sponge on Great Britain and fawn on the States, which the present Liberal Government pursues.

Correct and friendly as Admiral Field's speeches have been, they have none the less aroused the ire of certain government supporters at Ottawa and elsewhere. The galled jabs in winning, and private members of the government party and government representatives have intimated their indignation that a British officer should dare even to suggest that Canada would be provided any naval protection for herself. "Tell him to mind his own business," says one patriot of French-Canadian origin, no doubt with the glorious war record of Quebec in his mind. It is curious that in Australia and New Zealand, which are just as proud of their national status as we are Admiral Field's suggestions have been regarded as helpful guidance from an expert friend, and not as insulting interference.

Suppose that Great Britain and the rest of the Empire took the present Canadian government at its word, and publicly intimated that since Canada considers no naval protection needful, none would be given. One wonders what would be the effect on Japanese immigration policy towards British Columbia, or on the attitude of the United States in the question of the Great Lakes waterway. Fortunately the British Government probably estimates Mr. MacKenzie King and his satellites at their true value as a temporary incident representing the reaction from the strain of the war, and as in no way expressive of the permanent spirit of a Canada, which won its spurs in the war, and has no liking for parasites, either individuals or nations.

THE ANTI-BRITISH ORGANIZATION IN ALBERTA

Careful attention ought to be paid to the case reported from the district near Edmonton, where a number of settlers of alien origin are said to have formed a sort of anti-British organization aiming at driving out of the district all residents of British blood and making themselves into a more or less separate community. The Attorney-General's department has been asked to take steps in the matter and is looking into it with a view to necessary action.

There ought to be the shortest of shrift given to this foreign organization. Its members must be possessed of a limitless impudence as well as a complete absence of anything approaching to ordinary gratitude. Their being allowed to settle in Canada at all was a privilege and not a right, and in view of the state of Europe generally, it was a privilege for which they or their immediate ancestors should have been exceedingly grateful. Instead of that, they set to work to try to turn their hosts out of doors as it were, presumably with a view to transforming their own particular district of Alberta into an entirely non-British community.

The correct method of dealing with these gentry would be a term of rigorous imprisonment in a penitentiary followed by deportation to the land of their origin. Probably the long suffering good nature of the Anglo-Saxon will result in their being awarded nothing but a few days mild detention or a warning not to make fools of themselves. The policy of contemptuous toleration sometimes produces results as good as those brought about by severity, but on the other hand it can be carried much too far. At the present time the forces of lawlessness are gaining ground in the world to such an extent that it is unwise to give the slightest countenance to any such conspiracy as this. The United States is full of organizations both of foreign and domestic origin, which are setting the law at defiance, and carrying on what amounts to private war on their own account. In Canada, on the other hand, we have kept up the British tradition that the law allows of no private wars, no private wars, no private wars within the state. Therefore the sooner this trifling but none the less mischievous organization is brought to a complete end, the better it will be.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Hats off to the Senate! There has been a great and nation-wide demand for economy to which the Liberal government has paid no attention. The Senate has taken some action to force the keeping down of expenditures, and that in the face of howls of protest by those directly to be benefited by the building of the proposed lines. It all proves that the economy outcry usually means economy at the expense of someone else.

The Hillhurst-Vets. football match at Ponoka was a good game, but, according to the reporters present, the ground was uneven and prevented accurate passing. The game should have been played at Red Deer, but apparently someone said to the men who had the say about the place of play-off, that the grounds here were unfenced and under-size. That, of course, is true as far as the school grounds are concerned, but the executive must or should have known that there was a field of regulation size and in the exhibition grounds. While there have been no Connaught games here, in the old days Bennett Shield games were several times played at the exhibition grounds.

The House of Commons, it has been stated, refused to make any grant towards the expenses of entertaining the visiting British squadron. The attitude of the Liberal Party towards part of the forces of Great Britain for Canadians, and prevented Germany taking Canada for Germany, is further clarified by the remark of one eminent (sic) member in the house. The opinion of Admiral Field that Canada should have four cruisers, even if the newspaper reports can be taken at their face value, was not intended in any way as advice to the Government. And yet this dignified member requested in the house that the Admiral be notified to mind his own business.

They say that variety is the spice of life. We go on record, with regard to the weather, that we are getting too darn spicy. Last week we had it 100 in the shade. This week we had frost. If we regular weather we are afraid that the paper would be too spicy and would be denied the mails.

HOW ALBERTA IS CUT INTO SIXTEEN RIDINGS FOR DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Two Old Ridings, Strathcona and Victoria Cease to Exist and Six New Ridings, Acadia, Athabasca, Camrose, Vegreville, Peace River and Wetaskiwin Are Created.

Ottawa, July 4.—Information is now available as to the names of the new constituencies under redistribution in the four western provinces.

In Manitoba, St. Boniface is created as a new riding, while Winnipeg is divided into North Winnipeg, North-Center Winnipeg, South Winnipeg and South-Center Winnipeg. The names of the other constituencies remain unchanged.

In Saskatchewan, the constituency of Saltcoats disappears, while there are added: Long Lake, Melfort, Melville, Rosetown, Willowbush and Yorkton.

In Alberta, Strathcona and Victoria are dropped and the ridings will be as follows:

Acadia, which will be the northern part of the riding of Medicine Hat and portions of other ridings.

Athabasca—Taken from East and West Edmonton to the Northeast of Edmonton.

Battle River—With the same name and much the same center as present riding.

Bow River—The new constituency of this name will be slightly changed from the old constituency.

Calgary East—Slightly changed from the present constituency.

Calgary West—Slightly changed from the present constituency.

Camrose will take heart of the present Victoria riding, which disappears.

Edmonton East and Edmonton West are greatly changed. They will include all of the city, taking in the urban part of Strathcona riding.

Lethbridge—Much like present constituency.

Medicine Hat—Considerably reduced from present constituency.

Peace River—A new riding taken almost entirely out of West Edmonton.

Red Deer—Somewhat similar to present riding.

Vegreville—A new riding made up mostly of the rural part of old Strathcona riding.

In British Columbia, Vancouver is altered to provide for three ridings, North, Center and South. Now there are two members.

RED DEER WELL NO. 1. STARTED DRILLING MONDAY, JUNE 30

DEPTH TO DATE 310 FEET

Our well was spudded in on Monday, June 30th, and drilling is now well under way between two producing wells.

Our lease is located in what is known as the Sunburst Oil and Gas Field, a proven field consisting of 163 wells actually producing at this date.

The Shelby, Montana, Promoter says this section of the field is singularly free from dry holes, and the wells, while not exceptionally large, are nearly all more than average producers. Think of this.

There is a producing well within 220 feet of our east line, and another producing well the same distance on the south, which from last report was flowing.

With reasonable success in drilling, our well should be in production by July 16th to 20th.

This is your last opportunity to get in on this proposition. We feel confident that with our location and the producing wells practically on all sides of our lease, that you cannot do better than put a few dollars into this company.

We would like to talk the matter over with you, and give you the fullest information regarding the Company and its property and prospects.

Oil is the blood of the earth flowing through fortune's field only to enrich the courageous. It sometimes rewards even the non-thinking business slacker, but it never lifts the burden from the man who is afraid.

This is an opportunity that only presents itself once in a lifetime in the oil game, also to have yourself associated with men you all know who are after production instead of promotion.

The time is drawing near for the completion of this well. Do not delay in filling in the application for shares, because when the well comes into production the stock is closed to the outside investors at par value.

Better do it today.

FARMERS' CO-OPERATIVE MEETING

I have much pleasure in reporting another successful year in the business of your Association. In spite of the fact that live stock prices have reached the lowest ebb, we have managed to handle live stock in the past year to the value of $350,000. This tremendous turnover speaks well for the district and also speaks well for the producer, who was far-sighted enough to patronize his own Association but more than all it reflects very creditably on the management whose object has ever been to handle the farmers live stock at the lowest possible cost.
We have travelled far in the past year and gained not a little experience in the live stock marketing. As those of you who are familiar with our history will remember, we started this organization more as a medium for the collection and shipping of live stock than a marketing agency. A little over a year ago, we decided that we were not accomplishing enough, therefore we started to investigate the marketing end of the business, and the result was that at present we do not follow the practice of shipping our hogs to the Calgary or Edmonton yards, irrespective of the demand there, but we ship our hogs direct, wherever there is a demand great enough to spring the price a little.
A gentleman writing in The News seemed to think he had found a mare's nest when he discovered a large number of our hogs were being shipped to Burns, but I would ask the gentleman present if they think it a crime to ship to the highest bidder, for that is what we do. Anybody is welcome to our hogs if they will pay the price. The inevitable end of the hog is the packing plant, therefore, in my estimation, the shortest and most painless route in getting them there is good sound business.

In the last year a large number of organizations, somewhat like ours, have sprung up all over the province. This to me, together with the wheat pool, is a sign of the times, and may I say a sign of better times. The people engaged in agriculture in this country have begun to realize the fact that governments can help them but little, and that God helps only those that help themselves. As President Wood of the U.F.A. remarked in his last annual address, "Too long have we bayed at the moon and slept in the sunshine." I gather his meaning was that too long have we cried to government and high heaven for assistance, and at the same time overlooked opportunities to assist ourselves and put our occupations in a better condition. This, I think, is very true, and I have great faith in the marketing of the farmer's product by himself as a great means to this end. But with the growth of a large number of these organizations in the province, the question was raised "Why not amalgamate into one big association or pool, as the wheat pool has done?" and with this idea in mind a meeting consisting of the officers of a large number of these associations was held in Lacombe last month. What was done there, Mr. Van Slyke will tell you, but my impression of that meeting was that we found it was not so easy, and we decided that we should have to go very slowly in order to do anything worthwhile. But the idea in having one central selling agency for all our hogs and cattle in Alberta recommends itself very strongly to me.

Egg Pool
Last February some of the members of your Executive had the happy thought that an egg marketing centre should be established in Red Deer. A large number of people were dissatisfied with egg marketing conditions as they then were, and they were not anticipating anything but more trouble when the new government regulation that all eggs be candled when received from the producer, should come into effect. Your Executive, after very careful deliberation, and after requiring information from every source possible, decided to start an egg marketing centre. This market has now been in operation for three months, and the fifth car of eggs went out today. There may be some really dissatisfied patrons of the egg pool, but so far I have not heard of them. I heard one lady remark that she could handle her eggs better at home, but she afterwards admitted that the price she received was as good as she could get elsewhere.

The pool has a separate account at the bank, and all business of the pool is kept separate from the live stock end. The pool has not yet paid a dividend, but its position is very strong. I wish to thank all the expenses for fixtures and a correct portion of the rent and light will be charged to the pool, and when these are paid I have no doubt that in the near future the pool will declare dividend. Meanwhile the majority of the patrons say that they are getting as much money, if not a little more, than they could elsewhere.

In reviewing the year's work of your Association, it is with a feeling of satisfaction that you will look upon the progress that has been made. These are trying times, and your Executive have had many difficulties. But on behalf of the Executive, I wish to thank all the patrons of this Association, for it is they who have made the measure of success we have achieved possible. This Association is the sheet-anchor of the farmers of the Red Deer district. The co-operative marketing principle is right, while our organization may be imperfect, we are working, we believe, with our faces toward the light of the day, and a more healthy condition will be shown in the finances of the farmers of this district, and your Executive will be more than repaid if we can rightly credit a part of that betterment to this organization.

In the future, if any members are tempted to divert their hogs or cattle through other channels than this, I would ask them to remember that possibly were it not for this Association, other buyers would not be willing to pay the price. The motive which animates the drover buyer is to make money out of the farmers' live stock. The motive which animates our manager or the humblest servant of this organization is to render a service to the patron, to handle his live stock at the lowest possible cost, and save him money. The organization is yours: I would earnestly ask you to give it a larger share of your patronage in the future than you have done in the past. If you do, its ultimate success is assured.

J. E. C. OLDFORD, President
The Manager's report, presented by Mr. Ralph Patterson, was as follows:
The Directors and Delegates:
Gentlemen:—

I beg to submit my annual report. During the past year we have extended our operations considerably. Our chief advance is in having our own stock yards in Red Deer, where we are enabled to sort out loads and feed up light hogs if necessary. We never send out overloaded or unsorted loads under the present system, which is a considerable saving in freight.
As a large number of farmers were anxious to sell weaner pigs this year, we rented a pasture a short distance from the yards and are now in a position to handle this class of stock, which previously we could not do. We sell these pigs to any farmer who needs them, or fill orders to outside points; any of those left we feed ourselves. You will see that we are enabled to handle any kind of stock for which there is a market.
During the past year, a number of farmers have purchased breeding sows from the yards. We are of the opinion that this is good business for the district, as a man can get hogs of the most desirable type. We do not charge anything for this service, the purchaser pays the market price for the week, and the owner of the hogs gets exactly what he would if they went on the open market.

One of our weaknesses has been the weighing of the stock at country points, and it is the policy of the Directors to either acquire stock scales or get some other concern to put them there. In this line, the department purchased the scales at Eckville, which, outside Red Deer, is the largest shipping point.
We receive stock every two weeks at the following places: Sylvan Lake, Benalto, Hespero, Condon and Penhold, whenever necessary from Alhambra, Leesville and Blackfalds, and daily at Red Deer.
Mr. P. Tolvanen is our agent for Eckville and Benalto; Mr. P. Duffield for Sylvan Lake; Mr. W. R. Edgar for Hespero; Mr. E. J. Frasier for Condon; Mr. E. Rutherford for Alhambra, and Mr. D. H. Steen for Leesville. To all these gentlemen I wish to express my hearty thanks for their loyal support and co-operation. They have rendered a great service to the Association. Blackfalds and Penhold are handled by the Red Deer staff.

We have our own dray. This is used for hauling feed, buttermilk, eggs, poultry, etc., and is working practically all the year. Prior to our getting this outfit, we were under a heavy expense for draying.

In April last, the Association widened its operations by going into the egg business. The reasons for doing this have been explained by your President. This necessitated a considerable increase in staff, viz., a bookkeeper and three egg candlers. Prior to this, we had two men and a stenographer. The time of these two men is now equally divided between the stock department and the egg and poultry. The egg business, being a new departure, was entered into with great caution, but I am glad to report has been most successful.

We have paid Calgary and Edmonton prices for Red Deer, and will pay, as our egg report will show, a bonus to all the shippers.

We claim, and I think with justice, that we are entitled to the support of every farmer in this business, as we run this on a pool basis, and this is the only organization in Western Canada run on these lines. There is no doubt that the fact of our being in business and an organization of the two main egg markets in Alberta. The reports we have received, both from the business and the inspector, and the firms we have sold to, have been most gratifying.

Since criticism has recently been offered regarding our method of selling stock, it has been said that we are simply the agent of the packers. Such is not the case. We are not tied to any firm of packers in any way. We take the stand that our hogs are just as much on the open market as the Red Deer as though they were on the Calgary yards. We have been selling the bulk of our hogs in every case, they have consistently paid the highest price. We sold ten loads last winter to other firms.

Your manager has kept in close touch with the district during the past year, visiting the shippers and farmers and attending meetings when necessary. There have been some complaints of handling from the farthest district points, but in every case it was due to lack of knowledge of the expenses entailed, and when the matter was explained, the farmers were satisfied.
We, of course, get complaints that we are not doing enough, and respectfully remind the Directors and delegates that this organization has grown with such rapidity during the last six months that it got a little behind the times for awhile. We are, however, rapidly getting the business into such shape that these faults will not occur in future.

I wish to thank heartily the officers and directors for their help and advice during the past year. There have been many occasions on which their kindly words have helped through difficulties.
Respectfully submitted,
RALPH PATTERSON,
Manager.

The Manager's financial statement showed the following figures of volume of business done:

	Number	Cars	Amount
Hogs	15,380	192	$249,600
Cattle	1,697	69	68,600
Sheep	225	8	2,850
Poultry	8	8	9,279
		271	$329,629

Mr. R. A. Van Slyke's report as secretary was rather informal, practically a verbal report. The gist of it was a review of the very satisfactory growth of the business of the Association. He said the Executive Committee had held four meetings during the year, mostly concerned with the organization of the Egg Pool. He reviewed also the attempts that had been made, in conjunction with the Board of Trade, to get stock yards established on the C.N.R.

The next order of business was a complaint of encroachments being made on the Association's territory by the U.G.G. at Penhold. A considerable discussion on this subject, the feeling of the meeting being that, as the majority of the members were shareholders of the U.G.G., they had a right to have something to say about its policy, and should urge at its meetings that it should not trespass upon their preserves. Finally, upon the motion of Messrs. Wallace, Lundberg and Pye were appointed a committee to take up the matter with the organizations affected, with a view to having this practice corrected.

Provincial Organization
Mr. Van Slyke next presented his report of a very important meeting held at Lacombe in March. This was a meeting of representatives of live stock shipping associations from all over the province, called to discuss the formation of a provincial association. Associations represented included Pincher Creek, Hanna, Egmont, Beaver River, Buffalo Lake, Acme, Waskamut, Neerby, Leche, Lamont, Monitor, Consort, Red Deer, Ponoka, Delburne and Granger. The meeting, he said, had come to the conclusion that one of the reasons for failure of "pools" was that there were too many of them—that is to say, a separate pool for each of too many commodities, which cost too much in overhead.

It was suggested that all farm products might be handled by three pools, one for grain, one for live stock and one for all dairy products. Mr. Reid gave them some sound and valuable advice, and they had drafted a memorandum of incorporation and bylaws. They were of the opinion that a contract basis was essential for successful operation.
A long and very contentious argument took place upon this last point, in which most of these present took part. Those in favor of the contract basis were Messrs. Lundberg, Chovon, Parsons, Oldford and Van

THE SELF-DECEPTION OF SECRECY

The Spartans held that in stealing, the wrong was not in the stealing, but in getting caught. That wrongdoing is unknown, does not lessen its moral wrong or cancel its consequences. Things are what they are, and their results will be what they will be, and it is in vain that we deceive ourselves into believing that what is not known is as though it had never been.

There has recently been many investigations into the dishonesty of men holding high positions of public trust. They have suffered, but they would, for the time, at least, have gloried in their defalcations, as they did not do so as long as they were not caught.

The working of the moral law, however, is much more thorough. It frequently those who use public office for personal gain, instead of as a public trust, are discovered and they are exposed as traitors. Even if undetected, in after years there is the inner condemnation of conscience and they discover that there is no peace except by being right. Though they go for ever unwhipped of justice, in their quiet hours before God, they stand ashamed.

We live under the rule of laws that never fail. They may work slowly but they are sure. The ancient word remains true: "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

HE LEADETH ME

In pastures green? Not always; sometimes He Who knows best, in kindness leadeth me Out of the sunshine into the darkest night.

I oft would faint with sorrow and afflict. Only for this—I know He holds my hand; So whether in green or desert land I trust, altho' I may not understand. And still waters? No, not always so.

Oft times the heavy tempests blow, And o'er my soul the waves and billows go. But when the storms beat loudest and I cry Aloud for help, the Master standeth by.

And whispers to my soul, "Lo, it is I! Above the tempest will I hear Him say, "Beyond the darkness lies the perfect day."

In every path of thine I lead the way. So whether on the hill tops high and fair I dwell, or on the sunless valleys where The shadows lie—what matters? He is there.

And more than this; where'er the pathway leads, He gives to me no helpless broken reed. But His own hand sufficient for my need.

So where He leads me I can safely go, And in the blessed hereafter I shall know, Why in His wisdom He hath led me so.

One of the congregation: "We have nothing but praise for the new hymn 'Heaven.' Deacon: 'You noticed when the plate went round?'"

Doctor: "The increasing deafness of your wife is merely an indication of advanced age, and you can tell her that." Husband: "Hm! When I'm old, mind telling her that yourself, doctor?"
